EXPERIENCE

Self employed digital marketing

March 2015 - 2019

In 2015 started to free lance as a google ads and Facebook ads manager for various companies in the online-trading/gaming and fintech companies. As the time went by, I started my intersection with the dev teams in order to produce more efficient apps for me to advertise. Thus, I've become a product manager of development the entire client and employee interfaces such as trading platforms and CRM's From project to project using vast variety of technologies such as: php css html5 JavaScript , python react.js redux. As I started to research deeply on the stack of technologies that was involved in the process. It did not take longer until I started to write code for my own.
